Society for Buddhist-Christian Studies

Quantity: 17 feet
Date Range: 1963-2000

Description
This collection contains the files of Dr. David Chappell, one of the founders of the Journal and the Society for Buddhist-Christian Studies. The files are comprised of correspondence and articles by those who contributed to the Journal, and also of those who attended the conferences lead by David Chappell. The files also include related religious programs and journals affiliated with the Buddhist-Christians, as well as paperwork on programs and academics at University of Hawaii. The contributions made by the scholars participating in the conferences and programs run by David Chappell are arranged alphabetically, and occur at the beginning of the collection. The files following consist of general conference material and other related information, which is arranged chronologically.

“The Society for Buddhist-Christian Studies was founded as an outgrowth of three international conferences on Buddhist-Christian Dialogue, held in Hawaii in 1980 and 1984, and in Berkeley, CA in 1987. The Society's formation is a response to tremendous interest in the topic, evidenced by increased attendance and a more extensive program at each conference. The purpose of the Society is to provide an ongoing format and organization for those committed to study, reflection, interchange and practice arising out of Buddhist-Christian encounter.” From the “Council of Societies for the Study of Religion” web site at http://www.cssr.org/index.htm.

The majority of materials from the 1996 Conference at DePaul University are in Series 2 of the collection, listed at the end of this finding aid.
